Woman acted in self-defense in death of boyfriend: police

Although they say the investigation in continuing, police homicide detectives last weekend refused to charge a near Northside woman who admitted she shot and fatally wounded her boyfriend during an argument outside her apartment.

Mrs. Mary Bostic, 47, 2035 N. Meridian, has admitted firing the shot that resulted in the death of 42-year-old James Campbell, whose address was listed in the 500 block of Udel.

Campbell was found shot to death early Saturday in the hall outside Mrs. Bostic's third-floor apartment. He had been shot several times with a .22 caliber pistol.

Mrs. Bostic told investigating officers that Campbell had been visiting at her apartment when they became involved in a heated argument.

According to the woman, Campbell struck her several times and chased out into the hall where she struggled with him before firing the fatal shots which struck Campbell in the chest.

Emphasizing that the incident was a self-defense, Mrs. Bostic said she was not charged with a crime.

Meany, NAACP's Mitchell assail Nixon 'moratorium'

WASHINGTON -- Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP's Washington Bureau and firey old George Meany, president of the huge AFL-CIO, late last week accused President Nixon with playing politics with the busing issue.

Mitchell, in a speech before the delegates in Washington for the association Region 3 conference, said the President "moratorium" on school busing serves the political purpose of attracting the votes of bigots, racists and the needlessly fearful.

In a statement issued from his Washington office Mitchell called the Nixon proposal "a cynical attempt to reward those who said 'never' and to undermine the moral leadership of those citizens who endeavored to comply with the Constitution and the Supreme Court's 1954 decision."

Mitchell said the proposed moratorium puts the President on the side of the "apostles of discord, the purveyors of racism and those who burn school buses to deprive children of an education."

Mitchell said that testimony made last Friday before the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare revealed that only 1 to 2 per cent of the American school children being bused are involved in desegregation plans.

"This means that about 98 per cent of the children of this country who ride buses to school are using that form of transportation without any reference whatsoever to race or desegregation. This means that the President has consciously and willfully joined those to exaggerate the problem to inflame the American people for purely political reasons in an election year."

Nixon defends busing limits

WASHINGTON -- President Nixon and a Cabinet member last Friday defended the administration proposal to limit school busing and to try to improve education for children from poor families. Democrats attacked it.

Nixon spoke at a news conference, where he said his proposed moratorium on court ordered busing is constitutional.

He said forced busing "poisons relations between the races and creates racism." His proposal to increase federal funding for schools in mostly black, inner city areas may not work, Nixon admitted, adding, "But I do know we cannot go on with the present system."

Elliott L. Richardson, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, appeared at a Senate hearing, where Democratic senators said the administration's plan represented an attempt to deceive the American people.

Richardson said compensatory education had failed too often in the past but that his department now had a way to make it work if Congress would grant the needed authority to rearrange present programs.

He declared emphatically that Nixon supports equal education opportunity even if that means some busing.

Richardson appeared before the Education Subcommittee on a bill to put stringent controls on the type of busing that could be ordered in desegregation cases and change present programs so that the administration could spend $2.5 billion already voted by Congress to improve education for underprivileged children.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., told the secretary the subcommittee had been given "hypocritical hogwash which is the sum and substance of more than half of your testimony."

"These proposals are designed to deceive the Congress and the public into thinking you have a bold new program to do something you already have the authority to do and haven't done in the three years of this administration," Eagleton

Brass knuckles believed to be murder weapon

Two white men have been charged with murder in the death of a 30-year-old Northside woman, believed at first to have been a hit-and-run victim, whose body was found Feb. 1 on U.S. 31 near the Marion-Johnson County line.

The Marion County Grand Jury will hear evidence in the case against Brent E. Merritt, 20, 10000 block of West 21st, and Russell S. Kessler, 23, R.R. 2, Plainfield. They are charged with beating to death Mrs. Doris Jean Smith, 3000 block of Guilford. Investigators said a set of brass knuckles was used in the slaying.

According to sheriff's detectives, the victim was at first believed to be a traffic accident victim due to the nature of her injuries. Coroner's reports indicated the woman died as the result of seven broken ribs, a broken

House hopeful is former Demo city councilman

Republican hopes to elect Indiana's first black congressman and, while doing so, cut deeply into the heavily Democratic black vote at Gary, went somewhat awry last Thursday when a white minor GOP Lake County official also filed in the Republican primary for the 1st District congressional seat.

Quentin P. Smith, principal of Gary Westside High School--runnerup in this year's state basketball championship tourney--was to have been unopposed for the nomination, according to the Republican strategy.

If successful in November, Smith would become the only black Republican member of the U.S. House. Senator Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts if presently the only black Republican member of Congress.

There currently 13 black members of the House (all Democrats) including New York Congressman Shirley Chisholm, an announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Eight states and the District of Columbia currently have black Representatives in the House, with two each from New York, California, Michigan and Illinois.

Smith's primary opponent is Bruce Haller, a Hobart lumber dealer and an assistant Lake County Republican chairman. Haller said he filed for the 1st District race because he was unaware that Smith, a Democrat turned Republican, had filed and "I didn't want to see the spot remain open."

Both candidates filed just moments before the noon deadline last Thursday.

FLEETA DRUMGO

SAN FRANCISCO - A jury Monday found the two black Soledad Brothers innocent of all charges in the death of a white prison guard two years ago.

The verdict came at 11:45 a.m. The all-white jury of nine women and three men had deliberated since Friday night. On Sunday they had reported themselves hopelessly deadlocked 9-3.

In the 13-week trial, the Soledad Brothers were accused of beating white prison guard John V. Mills to death on Jan. 16, 1970. Also charged was George L. Jackson, 28, killed last Aug. 21 by guards who said he was trying to escape from San Quentin Prison.

Drumgo and Clutchette were in prison after burglary convictions; Jackson, for robbery. Clutchette was to come up for parole when he was implicated in the guard's MIAMI - A 38-year-old black woman chosen as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention and pledged to Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace said Monday that she would not serve in the post-fearing reprisals from the black community.

"I'm not going to be a delegate to that convention," said Mrs. James Warren. "I'm a Democrat but they made a big mistake in choosing me as a delegate."

Mrs. Warren said that neither she nor her husband was present last Saturday when Wallace supporters from Florida's Eighth Congressional District gathered in Miami.

Non-Partisans reveal plan to achieve discipline in schools

The Non-Partisans for Better Schools have proposed a number of methods - including expansion of vocational programs - in order to achieve fair and firm discipline in Indianapolis public schools. Speaking at a meeting Tuesday at the Non-Partisans headquarters, 235 E. Ohio, Mrs. Virginia Blankenbaker, a candidate on the Non-Partisans slate, revealed several proposals.

"First of all," said the mother of five who is also a former school teacher, "limiting classroom size is a necessity. Counseling services and visual perception testing must be expanded to include all students recommended by the teacher and principal without unnecessary delay."

"We must also continue to expand our vocational programs while at the same time upgrading our academic ones. Although our emphasis will be on preventive measures, we suggest that a special program be developed for the chronic troublemaker, the child who does not fit well into the everyday school situation. This could be in the regular school day or in an after-school or a night school program."

"Only by maintaining the highest standards of student behavior can we achieve an atmosphere which encourages learning. The school principal in close cooperation with individual teachers and parents plays a vital role in creating this atmosphere. When teachers make recommendations concerning students. They have a right to know how their principal acts on these recommendations. Teacher morale must be improved for this goes hand in hand with consistent discipline."

"Non-Partisans for Better Schools insist that racial balance should be maintained at all times at the hiring level so that mass transfers of teachers will never again be ordered."

"Regrettably, many incidents in our public schools have been exaggerated and distorted. A rumor center should be established to make facts available to the public. It is the duty of a responsible school board to make sure that facts rather than rumors are the basis for public opinion and action."

Black journalists urged to return to 'Black Press'

By Capital News Service

(WASHINGTON, D.C.)—More support of the Black owned and Black controlled press was urged at the first annual Black Communications Conference held last weekend on the Howard University campus by professionals and students in the field of mass media.

Approximately 200 black professional journalists from 140 radio-TV stations and newspapers and some 700 students from 74 black and white colleges throughout the nation attended the important conference sponsored by the National Black Communications Society recently organized on the campus.

The historic meetings on the effects of mass media on the Black community was sponsored by the recently established Howard University School of Communications and was held in cooperation with the Black Perspectives, an organization of black reporters, and the Congressional Black Caucus which held hearings on bias in the mass media following the conference.

Delegates passed resolutions and recommendations urging: The mass media to employ more blacks and upgrade black reporters to policy making and decision making positions. More news and information about conditions in the Black community.

Black reporters and other journalists to return to work for the Black owned press or exchange information with the Black Press.

Black owned and controlled media to return to its original sense of mission to protest discrimination and conditions in the Black community.

Black reporters to remember that they are black first and journalist second in the White controlled society.

Summit offers new wig

Charles Reuben, the only black wig designer in the United States, has just created BROWN SKIN BABY for SUMMIT'S AFYRIC WIGS. Brown Skin Baby has a brown skin tone molded scalp that looks, feels and acts like skin, so there's no netting exposed when you part it. The hair is inserted into the scalp strand-by-strand the way real hair grows. Result: It can be parted and combed in any direction and stays that way with out spray or teasing.

Its soft, full waves, made of Afyric - the first fiber designed to simulate a black woman's hair, can easily be combed in a style to suit every face and mood.

Brown Skin Baby was designed with today's mature woman in mind. It comes in lots of pretty colors, including two shades of gray and mixed gray.

Leading department stores throughout the country will be carrying Brown Skin Baby because it's the most natural wig ever created for the black woman.

Black lawyers to fight racial bias

NEW YORK —

To some 60 black lawyers and law students gathered in an upstairs ballroom at the Statler Hilton, the time had come to be a little less lawyer-like-at least in the traditional sense of the National Bar Association.

"The whole system of America is racist, and I come from the biggest racist city in the world," said Cecil Moore of Philadelphia. The "hypocrisy" of justice there, he said, "is such as makes you vomit."

"They say the law is blind to color," added Robert P. Burns, who practices in Manhattan's Criminal Court. "We know that's not the situation at all."

"When a brother ascended to the bench, he'd forget he was a brother, forget his blackness," complained O.T. Wells, the president-elect of the 2,000-member association. He said he was not asking judges to rule always in favor of someone just because he was black, but he went on, "We do ask you, 'Don't forget your own experiences.'"

For decades the National Bar Association had been considered by outsiders as little more than the black man's equivalent of the American Bar Association—a conservative group of lawyers.

The National Bar Association was formed in the nineteenth-twenties in the days when the American Bar Association didn't admit blacks. It took a cautious stand—so cautious, in fact, that many black law students as recently as three years ago it was "even worse than the A.B.A."

But last Friday, though the bleakness of the old days of the National Bar Association, was quickly conceded by almost everyone present, there was also general agreement that a new day had arrived and that a new image had been formed.

Speaker after speaker noted that the association had lately taken on a mood of activism, that the law students were now part of it and that the future of the organization lay in activist hands.

And the meeting—the opening of a three-day regional conference on the subject "Black Lawyers Unite for Racial Justice," —was as its organizer, William C. Chance Jr., said, "the beginning of a mobilization program" for the association.

The conference had been planned, he said, because the directors of the association had determined that it had to "be more effective," and thus much of the discussion at the meeting would concern the specific steps the organization would take.

"There must be an onslaught by lawyers" against the injustices suffered by blacks, Mr. Chance said. "We must become activist in the sense of the word—let's have that clenched fist mean we're going to surge ahead."

The participants gave a number of reasons for the group's relative inactivity in the past. Mr. Wells suggested that "we were more concerned with addressing ourselves to our own practice. To Mr. Moore, 'the black lawyer has in some ways failed to appreciate the power he had."

Mr. Chance offered another explanation: that black lawyers because of discrimination they had experienced in the profession, were extra wary of speaking out, lest the white bar accuse them of violating the profession's canons of ethics, and that they had been "conned" into thinking that if they went along with the system they would be allowed to participate in its advantages.

As to what action the lawyers should take, one specific proposal was to start a class action against the use of the present standard law school entrance examination.

On a more general level, Livingston Wingate, the executive director of the New York Urban League and a candidate for Congress, called upon judges to take "judicial notice" of the problems faced by blacks in America. "There can be no freedom for the black lawyer," he said, "until there's freedom for the black client."

HUD bars contractor from federal work over minority hiring policy

The Department of Housing and Urban Development served notice that it intends to press contractors to hire minority-group workers on federally subsidized housing jobs.

HUD barred a Philadelphia-area company from future federal contracts, at least for the time being, because, the department said, it failed to honor a commitment to use minority-group steamfitters on a public housing construction project. The company is Randeb, Inc., a heating and ventilating contractor based in Philadelphia.

A spokesman for Randeb, Inc. said company officers weren't available to comment upon the HUD action.

Samuel Simmons, a HUD assistant secretary, said the action shows "We mean to do it" and should be interpreted as a warning to companies doing business with the federal government that if they don't take "affirmative action" to employ minority group workers, they will be punished.

The Randeb case grew out of the "Philadelphia Plan," under which contractors on major federal construction projects in the area agree, at the time they are awarded the federal work, to make good-faith efforts to employ minority-group members in several specified trades. Mr. Simmons said 13 other Philadelphia Plan contractors, as well as some companies in other cities, are under scrutiny and could be the targets of sanctions by the end of the year if they don't come into compliance.

Two years ago Randeb received an $86,000 contract for work on the public housing project. At the time, the company agreed to a goal of 12 1/2 percent minority group employment in steamfitting positions, HUD said.

Mr. Simmons said Randeb failed to fulfill this pledge and didn't appear at a hearing called to check the alleged contract violation. Therefore, he said, the company until it mends its ways, is barred from future federal business because it "failed to achieve its minority hiring goal and failed to demonstrate that it had engaged in good-faith effort to achieve that goal."

This was the second time the federal government had taken such action. The earlier case was initiated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare against Edgerley Air Products, also of Philadelphia.

Soul festival is scheduled for April 1

The Talbot Area Performing Arts series, begun last November as a program to bring a variety of free cultural offerings to residents of the inner-city, will present a "Festival of Soul" on Saturday, April 1, at 4 P.M. in the John Herron Auditorium, 1701 North Pennsylvania St.

To be featured on the program are several rising young 'soul' groups from around the city. The "Vibulations," a group originating from the Atterbury Job Corps; ranks of talented young singers and musicians who will make their Indianapolis debut as a part of the festival.

Also contributing to the afternoon's 'soul happening' will be the popular "Uniques" from Shortridge High School. The "Naptown Inner-city Dancers and Band" are scheduled to appear with a demonstration of some new dances just beginning to gain popularity on the coasts. A dance contest will be conducted.

This should be a real opportunity for young 'brothers and sisters' from all over the community to come together for an afternoon of music, dancing, and relaxed sociality. It's an open invitation. The program is free.

LIKE WE promised to do last week, we are excitedly announcing some of the "Media Women" who will perform gracefully in presenting to Indianapolis' socialites some of the top fashions for spring and summer. The "Media Women," including lovely Bernadine C. Washington (in photo) are a special cohort of the fabulous Dress Horsemen out of Chicago, Ill., who come yearly to Indianapolis to delight guests at the Flamingo Social and Charity Club's fashion show and culmination of a "sweet-heart" contest. Shown with Mrs. Washington in the photo is handsome Darryl Calliouet, one of the Windy City's leading male models. Mrs. Washington is vice-president of WYON Radio Station. She is the first woman of color and also the only woman in the broadcast media to hold this high post. Mrs. Washington, with all her personality, will commentate this year's show. Other "Media Women" include Indianapolis' own, Mrs. Janet Floyd Langhart, who is the weather girl on WBBM TV, Merri Lee, hostess for Channel 44, and Sylvia White, news girl for WCAU, Channel 26, all in Chicago. Also featured will be the president of the Dress Horsemen, David Woods, who will personally see to it that Hoosier onlookers enjoy the best Dress Horseman show ever. Handsome Preston Rogers will also enhance the audience—especially the ladies—with his fashion know how. The Flamingos are wrapping up final plans for the show on Sunday, April 2, at the Indiana Roof Ballroom. The show gets underway at 4 p.m. and you won't want to miss the naming of the "Sweetheart of the Year" of the Flamingos Club. These debonair men have all confronted the public seeking support that they might win—sadly, though only one will win the coveted title, although all are outstanding. You may purchase your ticket at the door or contact any of the officers or members. Graciously bringing this elegant show to you each year are our own "fashion plates," the Flamingos, including Mmes. Dolores Higgins, president; Myrtle Williams, vice-president; Mary Ferguson, secretary; Dorothy Vandever, financial secretary; Ann Higgins, treasurer; Sarah Barnes, business manager; Julia Clardy, reporter; Ruth Thomas, ticket chairman, and Margaret Perry, sergeant-at-arms. Young and old, men and women, should plan to be among those attending. Tickets are $3.50 general admission and $4.50 for reserved seats. For additional information, call Mrs. Thomas, 925-7764.

Retarded children visited on 'Community Helpers Day'

The children of the primary section of Noble School, 2400 N. Tibbs, recently participated in their third annual "Community Helpers Day."

Purpose of the program was to acquaint the children with some of the people in the community who provide services. According to Mrs. Hazel Watson, learning specialist, "real life experiences not only enhance the school curriculum but increase the child's knowledge of the world about him."

The community helpers taking part in the program were Mrs. Bessie White, nurse, and Messrs. Harold Schmidt, policeman; James Smith, grocer; Don Wilbur, barber, and Jack Martin, milkman. All of the helpers came to school dressed in their uniforms and provided treats for the Noble School children. However, the thrill of the day came when each of the children was given a ride in the policeman's squad car. Noble 1 is an ultra-modern new facility and is one facet

Scenicview Country Club is scene of chic inaugural ball

Inauguration of officers of the board of directors of one of the city's most plush private social spots—the Scenicview Country Club—took place Friday, March 17.

Approximately 200 formally attired guests, men and women shared in the inauguration ball held at the club home, 6601 Grandview Dr.

John Cameron, a member, was master of ceremonies at the beautiful gathering which was enhanced by the elegance of the ballroom.

Larry Liggett, ball chairman, did an excellent job in preparing for the big social event, according to some of the guests attending. The crowd enjoyed a complete fillet mignon dinner.

Opened since Nov. 18, 1971, there are now 700 members from all walks of life, and new members are always being solicited to become an associate of the exclusive Scenicview Country Club.

Wells, treasurer, and Richard Heady Jr., secretary.

Board members are Mrs. Lois Bridges, Mrs. George Woodson, and Messrs. Liggett, Joseph Slash, Riley Smith, Joseph Summers, Aubrey Lowe, Rocky Fanning, Ernest Davis, Guy Russell, and Donald Oldham.

The inaugural ball was mainly given to introduce members to the officers of the board of directors. The swinging Fred Monroe Band entertained members and guests until the wee hours of the morning.

THE LUCKY 13 Club, an affiliate of Waterford Lodge 13, F. and A. M., held a gala affair for its members and guests recently. This social organization presented its first formal dinner recently at Scenicview Country Club. Among those partaking of the club's generosity were (from left to right) Messrs. B. N. West, Banks Miller, Jessie A. Buckner, Donald Stone, and Thomas C. Martin. The dinner was officially hosted by Jesse Buckner, worshipful master of Waterford Lodge, and present were some 73 club members and potential Masonic candidates who by all indications enjoyed their fillet mignon dinner. Purpose of the organization was given by Thomas C. Martin. Fred Davidson III revealed the future plans and activities for all Lucky 13 Club patrons. The affair was highlighted by the presentation of red roses to all ladies in attendance.

asking for S. and H. Green Stamps and Top Value Stamps to purchase the machine that others could use.

Ross' grandmother is Mrs. Catherine Sperling and she uses this machine regularly. The fourth graders seized the opportunity at once to share in helping Ross by making this a class project. They are trying to collect 1,200 books of Top Value Stamps and 1,800 books of S. and H. Green Stamps.

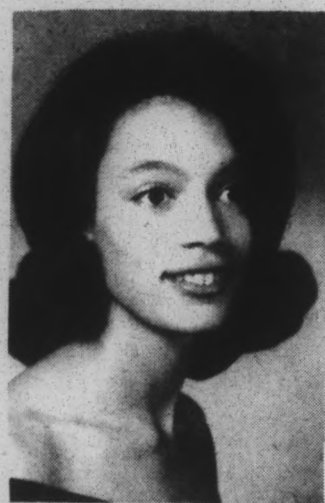

The class appeared on Mrs. Lavenia Jacobs' radio program on Channel 40 (WURD) recently. Ross read his letter and an appeal was made for the stamps. The 36 members of the class sang the Negro spiritual, "My Lord What A Mourning," directed by their teacher, Mrs. Lula McCampbell.

This project was the result of Negro History Week and Brotherhood Week stressed in February. The class was amazed to find that Negroes were the first to contribute many things to this country. These facts had not been divulged or taught before. They were also taught the contributions of Negroes living today such as Arthur Ashe, Shirley Chisholm, Mayor Richard G. Hatcher, Sidney Pottier, Senator Edward Brooke and Percy Julian.

The students correlated these and developed the theme for Brotherhood Week - "The American Way of Life - We Share Because We Care."

The youngsters are filling a second box with stamps. If you want to help, send your stamps to school 55, Room 7, or call Mrs. McCampbell, 255-8905. She will pick them up.

The fourth graders will not only make Ross Byram, his parents, and his grandmother happy, but Methodist Hospital can loan it to someone else that has a need for it. If you care, let it show by sharing. Don Gregg is School 55 principal.

Local man pilots Denver team to high school basketball title

BY HOUSTON DICKIE

It was in 1959 when Lonnie Porter was cut from the Crispus Attucks High School basketball team. Now, more than 13 years later, he is a high school championship coach in Denver, Colo., following a successful career as a high school and college player.

The Indianapolis native piloted Denver's Manual High School to its first high school championship (Triple A division) early last month in a "dream" game between his team, ranked No. 2 in Colorado, and Wheat Ridge, the previously undefeated No. 1 team. And he did it in his first year as head coach.

Porter, born and raised on this city's Westside, left Indianapolis in 1959, disappointed at not making the Attucks team which won the Indiana tournament that year, and attended high school in Waterloo, Iowa, where he made all-state, leading his team into the Iowa finals two years in a row.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Porter, 1201 Edgemont, the 6-foot Porter went on to become an all-Rocky Mountain Conference selection four consecutive years at Adams State, Alamosa, Colo. He remained at Adams and earned his masters in physical education and secondary administration in 1966 while coaching the college's freshman team.

Moving to Denver in '67 Porter became assistant coach at Manual the following year and moved up to the head coaching post this season. Without a doubt, his biggest thrill came this year when Manual won the state title.

"It was a high point in my life," said the 28-year-old Porter who was in Indianapolis earlier this week following a trip to Los Angeles where he watched the UCLA-Florida State NCAA championship game, and a former pupil, UCLA's Larry Farmer, whom he coached as assistant, at Manual.

He is expected to be named high school basketball coach of the year in balloting by Colorado sportswriters and broadcasters later this month, and will likely coach a Colorado all-star team.

Manual defeated Wheat Ridge, 64-60, to take the title. Wheat Ridge had been heavily favored after completing the season with a nifty 20-0 mark. Manual finished the regular season at 18-2.

"I just couldn't believe it," said Porter of his team's championship. "It's something I had always dreamed of but never really thought would happen. But it did and I thank God."

Porter's Thunderbolts outclassed Wheat Ridge 20-14 at the first quarter stop, 35-27 at the half, and fought off a late rally in the fourth period "to win for Denver."

"We went out to win the state championship for the people of Denver, the Denver Public Schools league and for our community," said the young coach.

"But it's the team that deserves the credit," he quickly pointed out. "They played well all season. They didn't surprise me by winning the crown. I knew they could do it and so did they. I'm proud of them."

Manual is an all-black team. Wheat Ridge is all-white.

Porter thinks Southern Cal. will be a tough foe on the West Coast next season despite the presence of UCLA, whom most people think will be undefeated over the next two years, and he has good reason to think so—one of his students is the leading scorer and rebounder for the Trojan freshman squad.

Clint Chapman, a 6-foot-9 center, led the Trojan freshman team to a 17-1 record this season and Porter predicts he will be the top sophomore on the West Coast next season.

"I never wanted to leave Indianapolis," said Porter in an interview Monday, "but basketball is my heart and when I couldn't play for Attucks I decided I'd have a better chance elsewhere—even if it had to be out of the state."

Porter said he hopes one day to move on to coaching in the college ranks and, "Who knows," he said, "maybe someday to the pros."

At any rate, Indianapolis' loss is Denver's gain.

Fleming top vote getter on AP's all-state team

ALBERT FLEMING

Albert Fleming, who led Michigan City Elston to an undefeated regular season and the No. 1 ranking in Hoosier high school basketball, picked up the top spot on 15 of 16 ballots cast last week for the Associated Press' all-state high school basketball team.

The 6-foot-8 Fleming was joined on the first team by Phil Cox, a 6-foot-5 forward for state champion Connersville; Bob Wilkerson, 6-foot-5 guard for Anderson-Madison Heights; Tim Kuzma, 6-foot-4 forward of Muncie Central, and 6-foot-2 guard Bruce Parkinson of Yorktown.

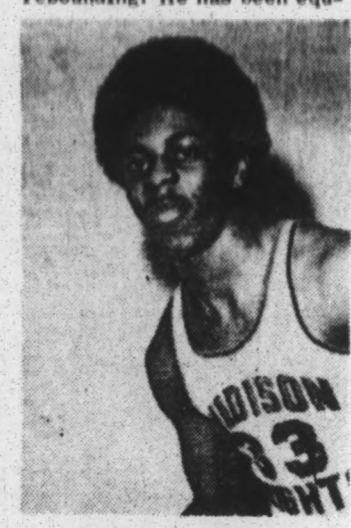

Fleming was the offensive and defensive star for Elston as the Red Devils won 27 straight games and ranked first in the state before losing in the LaFayette semistate final to state runnerup Gary West, an 84-83 overtime decision.

The mobile center led the Devils in scoring with 22.9 points a game and in rebounding with 14.8 a game. He also paced Elston in shooting percentage from the field and from the free throw line. Cox led his team in scoring and assists and was second in rebounding. He has been equi-

Parkinson, whose father was an All-American at Kentucky, averaged 18.2 points a game and totaled 430 assists in his four-year career. Wilkerson played every po-

STRIKES with STEVE

BY STEVE EBERHARDT
Last week I told you that Ernest Weaver and Company could wrap everything in a week or so. Well, they continued their assault this week and on Monday night they rolled past Susie Oakley's team, which is in last place, and won the first game by 15 pins and went on to win the series easily.

Second place is presently being held by Richard Covington's team. Cathrine Cotledge and Paul Spain, rolling 498 and 567 respectively, moved their team into third place, dropping Lindsey Crowe's team to fourth.

Last Saturday two of our younger soul sisters really got down at Hinkel Bowling Lanes in the annual Womens Ten-Pin Classic. Linda and Beverly Jimison (they're sister-in-laws) are currently leading first place in doubles with a 1200 with handicap. Beverly shot a 498 and Linda

Ali favored over Foster in 15-round Tokyo fight

TOKYO—Muhammad Ali is a heavy favorite over former United States Marine Mac Foster in their 15-round bout Saturday (Friday night in the U.S.) at the 14,000-seat capacity Budokan Hall here.

(The fight may be seen locally via closed circuit television at the Murat Theatre beginning at 9:30 p.m. Friday night.)

In his characteristic style, Ali has been boasting that he is the "world's best" since his arrival on March 16 and that it is "impossible" for him to lose, but he has been training conscientiously.

Ali has said that after he knocks out Foster, he will visit China at Peking's invitation, then beat George Chuvalo in Canada on May 1, visit Russia for a few days, whip Jerry Quarry at Las Vegas, and then go into two-month training to "retire" Frazier in a return match.

The fight is scheduled to start at 22 minutes past high noon April 1 so that it can be televised live via commercial satellite for closed circuit showing at 91 locations in Canada and the United States on Friday night.

It will be the first heavyweight fight in Japan between two American contenders and will be held under special permit of the Japan Boxing Commission, which has a regulation barring fights between foreigners.

The promoters have said Ali will be paid $400,000 and Foster $80,000.

Admission prices range from 3,000 yen (10 United States dollars) to an unprecedented high of 30,000 (100 are the king of the Jews!" These words were written above him: "This is the King of the Jews."

One of the criminals hanging there threw insults at him: "Aren't you the Messiah? Save yourself and us!" The other one, however, rebuked him, saying: "Don't you fear God? Here we are all under the same sentence. Ours, however, is only right, for we are getting what we deserve for what we did; but he has done no wrong." And he said to Jesus, "Remember me, Jesus, when you come as King!" Jesus said to him, "I tell you this: today you will be in Paradise with me."

The Death of Jesus

It was about twelve o'clock when the sun stopped shining and darkness covered the whole country until three o'clock; and the curtain hanging in the Temple was torn in two. Jesus cried out in a loud voice, "Father! In your hands I place my spirit!" He said this and died. The army officer saw what had happened, and he praised God, saying, "Certainly he was a good man!" When the people who had gathered there to watch the spectacle saw what happened, they all went back home beating their breasts. All those who knew Jesus personally, including the women who had followed him from Galilee, stood off at a distance to see these things.

The Burial of Jesus

There was a man named Joseph, from the Jewish town of Arimathea. He was a good and honorable man, and waited for the coming of the Kingdom of God. Although a member of the Council, he had not agreed with their decision and action. He went into the presence of Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. Then he took the body down, wrapped it in a linen sheet, and placed it in a grave which had been dug out of the rock—a grave which had never been used. It was Friday, and the Sabbath was about to begin.

The women who had followed Jesus from Galilee went with Joseph and saw the grave and how Jesus' body was laid in it. Then they went back home and prepared spices and ointment for his body.

On the Sabbath they rested, as the Law commanded.

The Resurrection

Very early on Sunday morning the women went to the grave carrying the spices they had prepared. They found the stone rolled away from the entrance to the grave, so they went on in; but they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus. They stood there uncertain about this, when suddenly two men in bright shining clothes stood by them. Full of fear, the women bowed down to the ground; as the men said to them: "Why are you looking among the dead for one who is alive? He is not here; he has risen. Remember what he said to you while he was in Galilee: 'The Son of Man must be handed over to sinful men, be nailed to the cross and be raised to life on the third day.'" Then the women remembered his words, returned from the grave, and told all these things to the eleven disciples and all the rest. The women were Mary Magdalene, Joanna, and Mary the mother of James; and the other women with them told these things to the apostles. But the apostles thought that what the women said was nonsense, and did not believe them. But Peter got up and ran to the grave; he bent down and saw the grave cloths and nothing else. Then he went back home wondering at what had happened.

The Walk to Emmaus

On that same day two of them were going to a village named Emmaus, about seven miles from Jerusalem, and they were talking to each other about all the things that had happened. As they talked and discussed, Jesus himself drew near and walked along with them; they saw him, but somehow did not recognize him. Jesus said to them, "What are you talking about, back and forth, as you walk along?" And they stood still, with sad faces. One of them, named Cleopas, asked him, "Are you the only man living in Jerusalem who does not know what has been happening there these last few days?" "What things?" he asked. "The things that happened to Jesus of Nazareth," they answered. "This man was a prophet, and was considered by God and by all the people to be mighty in words and deeds. Our chief priests and rulers handed him over to be sentenced to death, and they nailed him to the cross. And we had hoped that he would be the one who was going to redeem Israel! Besides all that, this is now the third day since it happened. Some of the women of our group surprised us; they went at dawn to the grave, but could not find the body. They came back saying they had seen a vision of angels who told them that he is alive. Some of our group went to the grave and found it exactly as the women had said, but they did not see him."

Then Jesus said to them: "How foolish you are, how slow you are to believe everything the prophets said! Was it not necessary for the Messiah to suffer these things and enter his glory?" And Jesus explained to them what was said about him in all the Scriptures, beginning with the books of Moses and the writings of all the prophets.

They came near the village to which they were going, and Jesus acted as if he were going farther; but they held him back, saying, "Stay with us; the day is almost over and it is getting dark." So he went in to stay with them. He sat at table with them, took the bread, and said the blessing; then he broke the bread and gave it to them. Their eyes were opened and they recognized him; but he disappeared from their sight. They said to each other, "Wasn't it like a fire burning in us when he talked to us on the road and explained the Scriptures to us?"

They got up at once and went back to Jerusalem, where they found the eleven disciples gathered together with the others saying, "The Lord is risen indeed! Simon has seen him!" The two then explained to them what had happened on the road, and how they had recognized the Lord when he broke the bread.

Jesus Appears to His Disciples

While they were telling them this, suddenly the Lord himself stood among them and said to them, "Peace be with you."

Black political convention historic

The National Black Political Convention, held recently in Gary, Indiana, was a milestone in the political development of black people. Largely neglected by the media, its full significance will become apparent only after the passage of time, when distance will lend to it the kind of perspective and long-range influence that historians will acknowledge.

But the days following the Gary meeting saw a good deal of confusion and even disappointment over the results of the convention. These, I believe, are misplaced.

The very fact that the convention took place and it brought together the disparate elements of the black community in common cause, is important. It also marks a giant step in the evolution of black political power. The very existence of such a convention was an indication that thinking black people no longer see political power as a function of a charismatic personality or of a black politician whose office is dependent upon higher governmental bodies.

Political power is more than that; it is the formulation of goals and objectives and the organization of people to achieve them. So there was no single candidate presented by the convention, nor did it deal with choices among the established political parties. It was less a political convention in the electoral sense, than a black convention forging a political consensus on the issues affecting black people.

This is a remarkable development, especially when one considers that so many black people have been so long denied the vote and denied participation in the political process. It was only within the past decade that black people in many parts of the country were permitted to vote, and the numbers of black elected officials, even now an inadequate 2,000, were very few indeed.

For a people to go in so short a time from exclusion from the very idea of politics, to so sophisticated a parley as the Gary convention is not only historic and impressive; it is also a measure of the faith black people still have in this nation and its political structures.

In the face of the broad, overriding significance of the meeting, the criticisms of it can be taken in stride. Some people have called it "a circus," and others fret about the nationalist slant embodied in some of the resolutions. But it was no more a "circus" than any political convention ever is. Confusion is always present at mass gatherings where people are politicking in the aisles, and there certainly was neither the violence nor the high-handed tactics evident at the established political party's conventions in 1968. Just tune in on the forthcoming political conventions this summer if you really want to see a circus or two.

I have my problems with some of the resolutions too; the anti-busing resolution, for example. It is clear to me that such a resolution gives aid and comfort to the enemies of black people, as well as being wrong in itself. Despite the heavy press play given this particular resolution, the convention adopted another one in effect cancelling out its previous anti-busing stance.

It would be absurd to suggest that one meeting or one document can accurately reflect black opinion. Black people, like everyone else, are divided on many philosophical, political, and economic issues. Anyone who expected the Gary convention to come up with a utopian unity was bound to be disappointed. But the convention did prove that there is far more that unites black people than divides, and that the will to unity is strong and vital.

The convention was made up of people of all political persuasions, from high Administration officials to representatives of anti-establishment groups. But all shared the desire to help bring black people together; not to speak as one voice for all blacks, but to inaugurate the process by which black people can formulate the strategies and goals that will make this nation's political and economic structures work for us as they now work for white Americans.

Black Political Convention: the handwriting on the wall

BY WILLIAM A. DENNIS
BAPTIST MINISTERS FOR-SIGHT

The American political liberalism that had its beginning in the New Deal of EDR and climaxed at the New Frontier of JFK, has been weighed in the balances and found wanting.

Though its failure and bankruptcy have been sensed and felt for sometime now, the action of the recent Black Political Convention in Gary has exposed this fact clearly before the gaze of world consciousness. This is not to indict the sincerity or patriotism of anyone, conservative or liberal. To borrow a quote from Mark Anthony, "They are all honorable men." It is rather simply to recognize the fact that our political structures have collapsed, and they do not and cannot meet our needs in the 20th century.

In spite of the strong and strenuous protests of the NAACP and others, we think the Black Convention was right when it sensed and expressed the need for revolution rather than reform. When your automobile becomes a total loss, you do not seek to repair it, you seek to buy a new one. Revolution is the trend of our times. Like it or not, it is no longer a question as to whether we should have a revolution or not; it is rather, how are we going to relate to the revolution that constitutes our times.

When God pulled a revolution on Babylon centuries ago, He had trouble getting the message through to Babylon. Perhaps they had a controlled and bias news media like we have today. At any rate, God could not get prime network time, and in fact, He couldn't get any time or space at all, so He crashed a political convention and delivered the message by "a hand writing on the wall."

The Black Convention in Gary was God's handwriting on the wall to modern Babylon. The Medes and Persians are at hand!

1972 America is as racist as ever

Despite the denials of such typical white American as George Wallace and Richard Nixon, our nation is racist through and through. In spite of fervent disavowals, expressed often in eloquent words, the problem in America is not the black man but white racism, which permeates every segment of American life.

Overt race prejudice is no longer as fashionable as it used to be, but it is no less prevalent nor any less significant. Now-a-days white racism is more subtle and there are very few white Americans who are free of the disease. They are not as formerly thought, just Southerners but they reside in every city and hamlet in America.

In recent years white Americans have rejected the reality of their involvement with racist attitudes and have tried to disguise their feeling from themselves. For generations white Americans have been taught and in turn have taught that blacks were the problem in this nation. At the turn of the century they often talked about the "white man's burden." Now the talk of the culturally deprived, the ghetto children, and the welfare mothers.

And in its structure white

America makes illicit use of racism in the scramble for power, prestige and income, while at the same time continuing its flight of more than a century from the unpleasant truth. White America did what the psychologists call a guilt transference—they called the racist problem, the Negro problem.

White America has for more than a century been hung up on an irrational and antis-cientific idea of race. Simply stated it is the belief commonly held by white Americans that white person is inherently better than a black one simply because of the color of his skin. To quote from the late Whitney Young:

"Racism is the assumption of superiority and the arrogance that goes with it. . . it is just knowing that white is superior: it is just acting like white is superior. The effectiveness of racism is its ability to appear "non-racist."

Today we see more and more whites subtly expressing racist attitudes learned at their mother's knee. They range from the President of the United States, the Governor of Indiana, the Mayor of Indianapolis, to George Wallace of Alabama. They all deny it but all of them in devious ways express their racism just as surely as does the unsophisticated members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Racism is what dictates that black men have the lowest paying jobs or no jobs at all. It dictates where the blacks can live relative peace and misery. It attempts to prevent black children attending the better schools in the community. And even these best schools are defective for the run on the assumption of white superiority and often the black child sent to them comes out with a pejorative image of himself.

But the same thing happens often when he is sent to all black ghetto schools because many black teachers have been brainwashed into accepting the proposition that black children are innately inferior to white children when it comes to education. This is the fault of the college and teacher training institutions which turn out teachers capable of teaching only white middle class urban children!

Racism also speaks from the pulpits of churches to racism in the pews and the church remains the most segregated institution in American life.

In sports when racism seems to be almost non-existent, it is very viable. In high school and college sports black athletes are exploited and in most instances, the predominance of stellar black performers does not mean that black students are not subjected to racial slurs and indignities or that the coaches and athletic officials are all black while racism believes that "Whitney knows best."

What is true of amateur sports is doubly true of the professional variety. The white super star can look forward to coaching or managing a team when his playing days are over. The black athlete on the other hand is given to understand that he should look elsewhere when he retires or is retired from his active playing days. And in some sports like auto and horse racing the Negro aspirant knocks in vain on closed doors.

White racism is as much a problem to all American as it was at the turn of the century and in the election year of 1972 it threatens to turn the clock back to the end of the last century.

Yet racism did not fall from the skies. As the song from South Pacific States "You've got to be taught to hate, you've got to be carefully taught. You've got to be taught before it's too late before you're six or seven or eight."

And that's how racists are born.

Brothers in Pendleton must unite so truth will be heard: inmate

To The Editor:

When a beautiful, proud soul brother like William Wallace, the former high school coordinator here at the Reformatory, turns in his resignation, black America should know that the monstrosity of racism and animalistic treatments of the oppressed black inmates have excelled to the highest level.

Against tremendous odds, brother Wallace gave all any human could give toward mitigating the obstacles that obstruct self-rehabilitation and self-awareness. His absence is regrettably noticed by all the black brothers, and many whites.

Where do we go from here? What sort of strategy does one employ against a regime of white racist pigs who have gained national attention for outright killing and crippling unarmed blacks because they had non-violently demanded "fair treatment?"

How do you relate to a public that seems content with the fictionalized information proffered to them by mad-dog prison directors and robotized inmate police?

How many more helpless law-violators will be gunned down, how many more young minds will be apathetically corrupted, how many more lives will be dehumanized before the public will awaken to the truth that law-violators are too human, and must be treated as such?

To be victorious, we must unite our minds and souls, struggle relentlessly to retrieve our culture, our language, our heritage, refrain from directing our grievances and hostilities toward each other, encourage rather than ridicule each other, forsake

Calvary

I can imagine God, the Father, talking to his Son.

"Son, if you go down to carry the cross to Calvary, it will be heavy.

"Father, I'll carry it.

"Son, it will be heavy because men and women will lie, steal and kill...it will make the cross awfully heavy.

"Father, I'll carry it.

"Son, they will down you, deny you and be ungrateful; it will make the cross heavier.

"Father, I'll carry it.

"Why, Son.

"Father, I care."

Tomism, thrive on the principle of love and solidarity, stop running in packs to harm another brother while oblivious of the true oppressor, think before judging a man by the color of his skin, learn to depict a hunky from a white man, educate ourselves above pimping black women and shooting jive and degrading our own parents and other blacks that are contributing something to our struggle, avoid being used by the racist pigs to abuse and kill each other, be more finesse, more militant and more astute in dealing with the self-crown pigs of repression; to be tolerant but not passive when our hands are tied, to understand the significance of brother Malcolm's words, "with any means necessary," and above all, to grasp the great pride of being the original man and of being black.

The friends of oppression have cleverly divided us my brothers, sending us in different directions, hateful and revengeful. This has been their method of operation for centuries and we are still being be-fooled by them. It must end now! It must end now if we wish to appeal to the public for retributive actions against the devils of oppression.

Allah says we must stand as "one." Only then will the public believe the prevailing inhuman cruelties behind these walls of despair and soaring hate. Then they will know that Brother James Durr and Clancy along with the other brave brothers of '69 were gunned down like cattle, mercilessly.

Then they will comprehend the reason why Robert Bonner and other blacks are being isolated and punished to hide the truth of the recent Jan. 16 disturbance and why Jesse Wiloughby, Brother Stoner and Brother Silas were hurried off to the state prison. Only then, my brothers, will they believe that punitive-minded administrators like Sam Whiteman coerces and intimidates inmates into outright lying on others in order to overcrowd the Tiger Cages and to promote racism and disharmony.

Perhaps then they will question the deaths of Melvin Ford, Robert Harris and V. Lawrence, and for-see another Attica unless they clear out the racist pigs that defy the laws of man and the laws of God.

We must unite, withnot with thoughts of violence, but to give the public strength, to give them the truth! Africa "Munga" Lumumba Indiana Reformatory

First hunger, then success for star of 'Cool Breeze,' Thalmus Rusulala

By HOUSTON DICKIE

Thalmus Rusulala is a very busy man these days. He is scheduled for stops in 11 cities in 19 in promoting the film, "Cool Breeze," in which he has a starring role.

But there was a time when he wasn't so busy. In fact he was straight out hungry and he remembers them well.

"It wasn't easy in those days," recalled the 36-year-old black actor who was in Indianapolis Tuesday promoting the movie, which will open Friday night at the Bel-Air and Twin-West driven-in theaters.

"I went hungry for a long time," said the Miami native, "but patience paid off. I didn't give up. I keep on working as hard as I could until I got my break."

His big break came in 1965 in New York when he was cast in the off-Broadway production of "The Fantasticks." Next came the Broadway smash, "Hello, Dolly," in which he played opposite Pearl Bailey for two years as a Cornellus Hackl.

He attributes his success to his patience and abilities but admits that the current trend toward black actors has helped him a great deal.

"Being black is the thing now and the movie industry has found out that black people attend theaters too and that blacks like to see blacks on the screen."

Having just completed a role in "Blacula," which stars Hoosier actor Bill Marshall in the title role, Rusulala talked about how he became interested in an acting career.

"I use to go to the movies a lot when I was a kid," he recalled. "I wanted to be an actor real bad; I was just fascinated by it."

When he was in high school he tried his hand at acting, and appeared in local talent shows, winning various local awards, before he started working with groups in New York City, Connecticut, and Riverside, California.

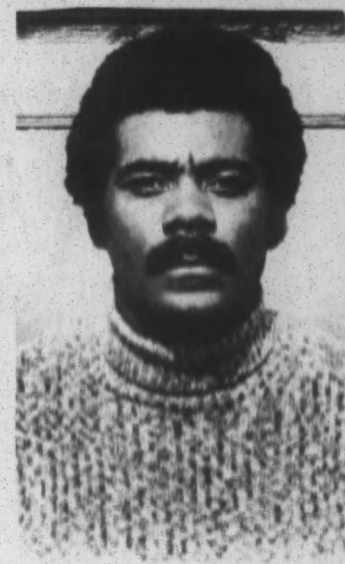

He talked about his role as Sidney Lord Jones in the MGM film:

"The Lord," as he is known to his close associates, came into his manhood hustling the streets of San Francisco," he explained of the role in which he conducted a great amount of research.

"Spurred by the frustrations he endured as a second class citizen, and his newly found sense of black pride, he set out to better his condition."

"He secured a job as a bank clerk, and by exercising his ability, worked himself up to a position of responsibility within the bank's administrative branch."

"Then he began his attack

on the 'system' at its core. He started shifting the banks trust dollars around to suit his own purpose, one of which was the financing of black businesses within the black community, a sort of contemporary Robin Hood.

"The Lord was quite successful in his endeavors, until one of his women thought she was being short-changed, and took it upon herself to blow his game.

The Bible

BY EVANG. ZULA M. WATSON

In the midst of you standeth one whom ye know (John 1:26). The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib, but Israel doth not know. My people doth not consider (Isiah 1:3).

Thus saith the Lord, let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches, but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he hath understanding and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exerciseth loving kindness, justice, and righteousness in the earth: For in these things I delight, saith the Lord (Jer. 9:23, 24).

There is a difference in knowing Jesus' name, and knowing him. To know Him is life eternal.

The Centurion cried out after Jesus was crucified: Truly this man was the Son of God (Mark 15:39).

John the Baptist said, and I knew him not. But he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him. The same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost (John 1:33).

The Apostle Paul met Jesus on the road to Damascus. At that time he had letters from the high spirit to bring anyone, man or woman, that he found to be calling on the name of Jesus to Jerusalem to be persecuted, but the Lord called Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? The Lord knocked him to the earth and smote him with blindness so much so he had to be led for days until he reached Damascus where he met Ananias who laid hands on him and he received his sight and also the Holy Ghost (Acts 9:1-20). Straight way he preached, Jesus is the Son of God.

There is only one way to know him and that is to have the experience that the Apostle Paul and many others have had (Christ in you-the hope of glory) (Col. 1:27).

Peter called Jesus Master, yet when he was being led away to be crucified, Peter swore with an oath he didn't even know him (Mark 14:70, 71).

Therefore, there are those that confer with their lips that they know the Son of God, but when they are put to the test, they either deny him by words or deeds. So Jesus said in vain - do they worship me (Matt 15:9).

Clue to cancer growth found

CLEARWATER BEACH, Fla.-the first experimental evidence showing that malignant cancers can be indefinitely kept in a dormant, harmless stage was reported Monday by a Harvard University researcher.

His findings open up a new field of research which may eventually make it possible to stop cancers from growing beyond the size of a B-B shot and enable a patient to live a full life with his tumor in permanent hibernation.

Dr. M. Judan Folkman's report was based on earlier work in which he showed that in order for a small cancer to grow into a deadly malignancy it excreted a chemical that stimulates blood vessels to rapidly grow into the tumor.

Reporting at the American Cancer Society's annual science writers seminar, Dr. Folkman said that when this growth factor, called tumor angiogenesis factor (T.A.F.), is prevented from reaching outlying blood vessels in sufficient quantities, the vessels do not grow back to the tumor and the tumor does not grow.

When a highly malignant tumor is implanted in the back of a rabbit's eye where vessels are absent, the tumor excretes T.A.F. but the factor does not reach the distant vessels to stimulate their growth.

The cancer is alive but dormant, he explained. When it is later removed from the eye and implanted anywhere else on the rabbit's body, the tumor immediately begins growing and soon kills the animal.

"Our work has shown that there is a crossroad early in the life cycle of a solid tumor at which it may be sidetracked into a state of permanent dormancy," said Folkman, surgery professor at Harvard and chief surgeon at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston.

Dr. Folkman said his laboratory has recently identified most of the chemical structures of T.A.F. His laboratory, along with a number of others, are not trying to find ways to block the growth factor either thru immunity or some chemical.

"It is entirely possible that the next decade of tumor management will be known as the age of the invisible tumor," he said.

In large cancers that could not be removed thru surgery, a chemical that blocked T.A.F. might force the tumor to regress to a dormant size, he said.

Over the last three years, Dr. Folkman's research has revealed how tiny tumors grow into killer cancers. The original cancer cell divides until it reaches the size of a pencil point containing some 6,000,000 tiny cells.

At this size, the cancer stops growing because the growth of the cells on the outside equals the death of the cells on the inside. The cells die because they have no way of getting rid of their products. They are literally choked to death in their own garbage.

In order to grow bigger, the cancer needs to be hooked up to blood vessels to get rid of the poisonous by-products and to bring in nutrients.

T.A.F. which appears to be the same in human and animal cancers, does this. When the factor is excreted, new blood vessels, begin to grow into the tumor within 48 hours.

Other animal experiments, Dr. Folkman said, show that when T.A.F. is cut off, the newly formed blood vessels begin to break and fade away.

Evansville News

By CLEONA SCOTE

Miss Loma Barnhill, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ceola Barnhill of 623 Bayard Park Drive, has been named to the honor roll at Paine College in Augusta, Ga., for the fall semester.

The "Hawaii '72 Via Chicago Ill.", with LaFemme Travellers of Evansville is drawing near and the Hawaii Tour is very exciting as we think of boarding Jet 747 and taking off for Honolulu. But getting to Chicago has been our concern since the planning of the trip.

Last we feel sure we have solution to this problem. With the help of God and the kindness of Mr. McCleary a bus is scheduled to leave Governor and Mulberry Streets Saturday, August 19, at 6:00. Tickets are $25.00. This will take care of transportation to Chicago, hotel fee for Saturday night, transportation to O'Hare Airport Sunday morning, August 20th and transportation back to Evansville Sunday, August 27.

We are hoping each one will get this amount to us by April 3.

There will be a briefing on Hawaii and a film on this night at the Triple A headquarters at Chestnut and Riverside at 7:00. This is on a Monday night. If you can't make this meeting please let us know on this date how many are in favor of our bus arrangements. Our meetings are held the 3rd Friday of each month and anyone may make payments on their balance if they wish. Again we are happy to have you as a part of our tour and hope the entire trip will be most enjoyable. Lillian Newell is tour conductor and president.

Mrs. Christine Bowling and Mrs. Albana J. Spurlin of Alpha Eta Chapter of Evansville attended the National Sorority Of Phi Delta Kappa Thirty-Second Midwestern Regional Conference March 17, 18, 19, held in Kansas City, Kansas. Theme for the meeting was, "Involving Today's Youth in Building Tomorrow's Society." The Key Note speaker was Dr. Milt A. Gordon, professor of education at Athens, Ohio. Many youths were featured in the program in song, dance and dramatics.

Mrs. Bowling and Mrs. Spurlin are both elementary teachers in the Public School System. They report they enjoyed the meeting and were thrilled to see so many young people taking part.

Saturday evening, March 25, in Nazarene Baptist Church, 867 E. Walnut Street, Miss Marlene Bonetta Rowans became the bride of Ronald J. Lewis.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Rowans of 809 S. Elliott Street and the late Mr. Rowans. The bride-groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Gray of 1321 E. Sycamore, Dr. Bransford Utley officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Eddie Tines, the new Mrs. Lewis chose Mrs. John Wilson as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Camilla Smith. Leonard Starks served the bride-groom as best man. Groomsmen were Tommy Vaughn of Indianapolis and Edward Tinch of Kirkwood, Mo.

Following the reception in the church Fellowship Hall the couple left on a wedding trip to northern Ohio. The bride is a keypunch operator at Old National Bank; the bridegroom a customer engineer at I.B.M. Corp.

Samuel Bell, 87, of 511 E. Mulberry Street died at Wellborn Baptist Hospital the past Saturday. Funeral arrangements are being completed at Gaines Funeral Home at this writing.

Surviving are his wife, Aslee; a daughter, Miss Shirley Bell of Milwaukee, Wis.; a step-daughter, Mrs. Ollie Mae Chaney of Evansville; a sister, Mrs. Eva Johnson of Columbus, Ohio; six grandchildren; and five great grandchildren.

Designer joins Summit staff on Afrylic Wigs

Today's outstanding designer must be a part of TODAY. His boundary must go far beyond the field of hair design. He must be a composite of many contemporary things.

It is this diversification that makes Charles Reuben one of today's outstanding wig designers. His careers as a composer, singer, model, actor, psychic and broadcasting personality all add to his awareness of fashion. Mr. Reuben will help you create excitement in your store when he helps you promote Summit's Afrylic Wigs.

Charles has always had a creative approach to beauty. He is one of the outstanding graduates of the M. Kavula Institute of Hair Design in Waterbury, Connecticut.

He melded his theatrical and styling interests by affiliating with the Yale Drama School's "Y" Theatre Workshop where he worked as a stylist for the Drama School's productions. It was here that his flair for the dramatic first caught the attention of the general public.

Following his successful affiliation with the workshop, he served as a designer and consultant for several hair care product companies. His flamboyant approach brought him kudos at national beauty shows and conventions throughout the United States.

The late Dinah Washington, who was one of music's great ladies, then contracted him to tour Europe with her as her personal hair stylist.

Returning from this tour, he moved into original hair design work for recording artist Nina Simone. His unique African hair dresses have graced numerous album covers including RCA's "Silk n' Soul."

Charles Reuben then set up his style headquarters in New York City where he managed the renowned Vidal Sassoon Wig Boutique.

He was the official stylist for the 1971 Miss Black America Pageant, and several of the contestants wore Summit's Afrylic Wigs styled by Mr. Reuben during the competition.

Many of today's outstanding designers have attended classes taught by Mr. Reuben in charm schools throughout the United States.

Charles Reuben, a great artist himself, has created for such artists as Freda Payne, Carmen McRae, Hazel Scott, Edna Mae Robinson and Sandy Franklyn. Isaac Hayes also wears chain outfits created by Charles.

He is also affiliated with the Negro Ensemble Company and the Henry Street Settlement (New Federal Theatre).

He has just completed a successful tour of wig boutiques in many of the country's leading department stores, and he'll help you create excitement in your store when he helps you promote Summit's Afrylic Wigs.

Prisoners abhor conditions; make 10 Demands of institute

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is an article written by over a dozen inmates at the Indiana State Prison. The strongly worded text criticizes the prison administration and staff and gives a list of "10 Demands" the prisoners are making.)

We, the inmates who are presently being held in the seclusion units of the Indiana State Prison, together, write this petition to bring about attention to the abominable conditions surrounding our lives. The intended purpose of this material is to expose the prodigious injustice inflicted upon us by the prison administration for no apparent reason other than we seek the manly respect due us as human beings.

We, the inmates of the N.S.B. Seclusion units, have found common ground in which to submerge the differences which have plagued us, the inhuman circumstances of this prison have served to create these differences among us, and they have been purposely perpetuated by the prison staff in order to keep us strategically divided while we suffer from their bloody hands the most inhuman forms of physical abuse and psychological torture imaginable. We recognize our defenselessness as far as trying to use violence as a means to eliminate our detestable condition, yet on the other hand we have failed and we will continue to fail, to submit to helplessness and hopelessness. So, therefore, we the inmates committed to this petition find common agreement wherein we are attempting, peacefully, and as intelligently as we know how, to secure our constitutional and human rights. Both being studiously denied us by this administration.

We work together in unity for the common good of the entire state of Indiana by asking peacefully that, whom-it-may-concern, recognize our sincere effort, come to our aid and by putting forth a wholehearted effort with us to correct these genocidal and unspeakable injustices, render impotent the adverse forces that are ada, to day force working against the men committing their names to this petition.

We present to you "Ten Demands." We have chosen to call them demands because what we ask for is that which is so reasonably natural in the course of human life until they would be undoubtedly be viewed by any civilized person as obvious human and moral rights demanding sanctity perse.

Judging from past experience, it seems as though, that when we try to appeal to the moral conscience of society concerning the genocidal conditions encircling our lives behind these bars, our appeal is quickly rejected or ignored. In many cases it is looked upon as being unjustified. Nevertheless, we feel, and know that we have a legitimate and justifiable reason to complain. The monstrous injustices against us prevail over the stereotype images and preconceived ideas.

Warden Russell E. Lash has sanctioned and participated in the brutalizing of inmates. He is the prime perpetrator of the ruthless, barbaric crimes presently being committed against the inmate population. Brutality is a common apparatus that Warden Lash uses to embed fear into the hearts of the helpless and defenseless inmates. A few days ago an inmate who was hospitalized, was brutally physically assaulted by Warden Lash and his "Goon Squad." Another similar incident occurred about two months ago. Warden Lash and his "Goon Squad," armed with clubs, tear-gas and football helmets, attacked an inmate who was locked up in one of the seclusion units. They gassed and unnecessarily brutalized him, then they transferred him to a stripped cell where he was given 6 years by the prison court. All this was done because the inmate had "allegedly" gotten into an argument with a prison guard. The inmate was locked in a seclusion cell when the alleged argument took place. Penal authority tells us that the purpose of prison is for rehabilitation and reform, and that prison is to prepare and equip the inmate academically and vocationally with the necessary facilities to compete in a modernistic society. If this is the goal, then it is very seldom reached, if ever, under the policy of Warden Lash who specializes in physical brutality and psychological dehumanization.

Warden Russell E. Lash is deceitful and hypocritical. He tells society that he is for the benefit, improvement, and rehabilitation of the inmates, but at the same time he practices something different than what he preaches. He practices unjust persecution, he creates nefarious conditions, and he commits atrocious crimes of injustice. In our "Ten Demands" we present to the public's attention these crimes committed against us by Warden Russell E. Lash. We ask that these crimes be corrected, be made manifest to the public, and a more beneficial order be instituted for the improvement of the inmate.

There is no other thing that is of vital importance that must fully pointed out before we go into presenting our "Ten Demands." The Hospital conditions. We have this detrimental situation listed as one of our most pressing problems and demands, which situation needs to be promptly abolished. We make the demand that the hospitals genocidal policy be immediately abolished. We believe that the hospital director, Mr. Parkman, who has proven himself to be incompetent in his position as medical director, who is bias and constantly exhibited racial partiality and blatant disregard for human life be immediately dismissed. The unqualified nurses, the don't care attitude regarding sanitary conditions, and the racket type policy, substantiates the allegation of Mr. Parkman's incompetency. The way in which the medical system administers medical service to the inmate is the most outlandish, and dire problems concerning the hospital. If an inmate happens to get seriously sick while he is in the seclusion units, it would take approximately 20 minutes or longer, for the officer in charge to get the nurse to the unit. Approximately another 20 minutes for the unqualified nurse to phone, locate and get instructions from the doctor, then the nurse is not allowed to transport the sick inmate from the seclusion unit to the hospital regardless of the inmates condition, without the presence of a ranking custodial official, which requires an additional 20 to 45 minutes to locate. Once reaching the hospital the inmates denied necessary and standard medical care.

How long does it take a sick person to die? Sometimes it takes as long as two to three hours before the inmate is given medical treatment. A few inmates have died due to the lack of speedy medical attention. This practice must be abolished! And, a more speedy and suitable method of medical service must be instituted to meet the medical needs of every inmate.

The "Ten Demands" are the absolute factors which have provoked us to bring our resources together and attempt to project our problem before the public. These factors have been deliberately created to breed an attitude for crime, hatred, and the most remote forms of moral breakdowns which lead to all kinds of perversion and psychopathic personalities. Yet it appears that no-one in authority will publicly acknowledge that these factors, these methods, follow a pattern, and continue to be advocated year after year by those individuals who have the influence position and authority to put an end to them.

We beseech you, the public, to whom it may concern, to recognize our problems, to realize that our problems are your problems and that we must solve them together. We ask you to help us correct the brutality, deceit, trickery and the mass injustices perpetrated against us. There are many of us that are beginning to become impatient with these conditions. And we are tired of being humiliated and mutilated by this vicious and deadly wolf, the real enemy of humanity. Tired of the "turn" the other cheek policy but are beginning to ascertain maximum retaliation as the only effective means at our disposal in the endeavor to secure human dignity and treatment. But this petition is a proclamation that we do not want to use the same apparatus against our oppressor as he is using against us. Here we present to the public our demands in lieu of violence:

1. We demand the prompt and immediate dismissal of Warden Russell E. Lash.

2. We demand the enocidal conditions of the medical staff be immediately abolished.

3. We demand our United States Constitutional Right to appeal before the Parole Board once a year. This must be recognized as such by the prison administration.

4. We demand the cessation of keeping a man in seclusion for two and three years. We demand a determined sentence concerning the time spent in seclusion. And, we demand the cessation of the CAC and PHC board, we see no purpose in going before it every 30 days because it serves no purpose other than of psychological harassment.

5. We demand a set program for the daily recreation of every inmate in seclusion. Regardless of the time he has spent in the Unit. We know it to be inhuman and unconstitutional as well as unsanitary to deprive a person of fresh air and physical exercise. Also, we ask for an investigation, and public attention be brought to the inhuman conditions of all seclusion units in the Indiana State Prison.

6. We demand the prison court cease taking the word of an inmate, or inmates, as being valid cause to seclude or lock up on suspicion, or investigation, another inmate without actual proof or without a prison guard as eye-witness to the alleged prison violation.

7. We demand the immediate stop of the unnecessary and over dramatic display of the use of handcuffs inside of the prison to transport an inmate to different sections in the prison proper.

8. We demand the improvement of the facilities for food disposal. The present conditions and means has undoubtedly created an unsanitary condition whereas there is an existence of an over abundance of disease carrying insects.

9. We demand the means to properly rehabilitate our- selves. We demand humane treatment, to be treated and respected as men, not as animals. We demand suitable and respectful type prison guards to be employed and instituted.

10. We demand the means to properly rehabilitate ourselves while being held in seclusion. We demand the following suggestions to be instituted and up-held by the prison staff in all seclusion units and elsewhere in the prison. In order to accomplish the said purpose these conditions must be corrected:

A. All restrictions and stipulations limiting the traffic of books, magazines, newspapers and the use of law-books from the writ-dept., be lifted and abandoned.

B. A religious counsel and consultation.

C. Correction of the incompetent handling of the U.S. Mail, and the covert opening of out-going business mail. This action is a violation of our Constitutional rights, to legal appeal without the interference of the prison authorities.

D. More sanitary handling of the medication.

E. An outside lawyer from the Legal Aid Society to represent our interest when we first appear before the prison court. If we feel that legal guidance is needed.

F. Years in seclusion be completely eliminated because it is inhuman punishment and it only serves to embitter us instead of rehabilitate and improve us.

Black-World view:

The Gary Platform

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a two-part series on the National Black Political Convention last month in Gary, Indiana. This article is a column of opinion and analysis from the Institute of the Black World, Atlanta, Georgia.)

It becomes increasingly clear to us that the National Black Political Convention which took place in Gary, Indiana, on March 10-12, 1972, may well have marked a new level of maturity of black political life in America. Two members of the staff of the Institute of the Black World contributed in individual capacities to the formulation of the platform of the convention and have provided us with a copy properly, we hope someone will, of literature ability, understand our need of being properly heard, and come to our aid by wording our plea in the proper language necessary for it to be heard.

We the undersigned, pray our pleas will not fall upon deaf ears. We sign this petition because we recognize the injustices and we ask that they be changed: Baker, 33640; Delph, 34913; Plain, 33355; Jessup, 36476; Webb, 37899; Davis, 35953; McKinley, 37-016; Wheeler, 34668; Speed, 33492; Roscoe, 37862; Reed, 35771; Smith, 37561; Rollins, 36735; and Dillard, 37333.

The importance of the issue raised at Gary lead us to suspend our usual column of analysis for this and the next edition of Black-World View and, instead, to share convention information with you. We are therefore quoting portions of the draft platform, as follows:

"Draft Document for the National Black Political Convention"

"Outline for a Black Agenda/Platform"

"PREMISES
"The Black Agenda is a preliminary step towards a black analysis of the black and white predicament in America. It points toward a black vision of fundamental social change for America -- both within and outside its own borders. The intent of this outline is to suggest some of the major changes we need to begin to eliminate racism and exploitation from American life. The basic assumption which informs the document is that such radical change cannot take place until the institutional framework of American society is fundamentally transformed. . . .
"The outline for a Black Agenda that follows is obviously not a finished program. It consists rather of suggestions towards principles and ideas, a starting point for discussion among us on the nature and structure of that change which is necessary to solve our problems. It is a sense of direction, not a solution. It assumes, first of all, that every conventional American sense of priorities must be overturned. It assumes that the overwhelming weight of national skills, funds and personnel must be pressed away from space, militarism, imperialism and repression to the creation of new, humane, social, economic and environmental realities. . . .

"OUTLINE FOR A BLACK AGENDA. . . .
"IN 1972 AND BEYOND, BLACK PEOPLE NEED THESE THINGS. WE MUST ORGANIZE TO GET THEM:
"1. A national Black constitutional convention within the next 12 months. Many of the structures of anti-Black racist control are built into the present Constitution. It must be changed.
"2. The establishment of Black Congressional representation in proportion to our presence in the national population. We are at least 15 per cent of the population. Through constitutional amendment -- or any other means necessary -- we ought to have at least 66 Representatives and 15 Senators.
"3. Proportionate Black employment and control at every level of local, state, and federal governmental structures, including the federal commissions and the highest level White House staff.

"4. An Executive Order to end all gerrymandering across the nation. Gerrymandering is used to destroy Black political power. It must not continue.

"5. A permanent voting right act, with registration based solely on age and residency. One man, one vote.

"6. Home Rule for the District of Columbia. A Black majority in the nation's capital is now controlled by a white-dominated Congressional Committee and a set of Presidential appointees. We must have black self-determination in Washington, D.C.

"7. The establishment of local community control over the police, the courts and the prisons, and the establishment of residency requirements for all neighborhood police forces. Our police should live where they serve. They, and all the instruments of justice, must be responsive to our needs.
"8. The abolition of income taxes for all families of four or more whose income is less than 20,000 dollars. The tax structure has been geared against this economic group that includes most black people. That injustice must be redressed.
"9. The elimination of loopholes in the federal tax structure and the shifting of profits from private to public resources.
"10. Establishment of a National Black Development Council funded by a major share of the Black proportion of federal tax incomes. This public Black agency would be responsible for the planning and execution of those necessary new initiatives in housing, land, schooling, jobs and health for the black community.

"11. Reorganization and re-definition of the Department of Agriculture away from the control of white Southern and Southwestern agribusiness interests. Creation of a well-funded black agency within the Department to work for the solution of the problems of Black rural development.

"12. The creation of a new urban-based Homestead Act, partly to make use of the billions of dollars worth of urban housing projects and land now owned by the Federal government. This property must not move into private hands when there is such drastic need for humane housing and land use where black people live.

"13. Establishment of a ceiling price for rents for all families of four or more earning less than 20,000 dollars per year. The society must be responsible for making it possible for us to live in humane conditions without destroying our financial resources.

"14. A national minimum wage of $2.50 per hour for all workers in all jobs. Starvation wages must end.

"15. A guaranteed minimum annual income of 6500 dollars for all families of four. Income is a right for all people in a humane society. Black people have earned more than our share already.

"16. A minimum increase of 100 per cent in Social Security benefits for all persons, and the availability of full benefits at age 50.
